

Isla Mujeres – the Island of Women

Isla Mujeres, the Island of Women, known by the ancient Mayan people as the sanctuary of Ix Chel, the goddess of love, fertility and the moon. Located just eight miles from Cancun, Isla Mujeres is a secluded island paradise surrounded by crystalline waters and a coral reef, reflecting off of one of the whitest beaches in all of Mexico, that offers unmatched beauty and charm where time passes slowly and your dream vacation becomes a reality.

Isla Mujeres is only 5 miles long and half a mile wide with a downtown area of just four by six blocks. Isla's terrain is flat with beaches on all sides. The average temperature is 80 degrees and 60% humidity.

Getting there involves a 30 minute cab ride from the Cancun airport to the Puerto Juarez ferry terminal and another 20 minute ride on fast and modern boats. There is a departure every 30 minutes all day long.

Isla Mujeres is a fishing village and though it is now discovered by tourists it still retains its charm and tranquil atmosphere.

As you stroll the streets in the evening you will see families gathered together in Caribbean styled homes, tucked between stores and restaurants, mending their fishing nets and relaxing.

If total isolation is your thing, there are plenty of remote beach areas on the island where you'll leave humanity behind.

Popular spots for bathing and relaxing under palm trees...

If you're looking for more of a beach town feel, the northern tip of the island should be your destination. Playa Norte' offers nice beaches, restaurants, hotels and more or less everything you could need.

On the main avenue, you can buy local art and crafts from the markets.

Isla Mujeres offers a lot of activities for everyone. The easiest way to move around is renting a golf cart or scooter. Although there are lots of golf carts about, there's never a problem getting around and you can park them anywhere. You won't get a ticket!

Enjoy fantastic and fun-filled family activities and swim with dolphins. You and your family will share many sensational and safe activities with your new dolphin friend who will greet you with a handshake and a kiss in the pristine and calm ocean waters. You will learn about dolphin's great intelligence and friendliness while having lots of fun in the natural paradise of Isla Mujeres.

You can visit the Sea Turtle. Turtle eggs are saved from the beach, incubated, and hatched. The turtles stay at the farm until they are about five years old and can fend for themselves in the sea, at which point they are released. Visitors to the Turtle Farm can see the turtles at every stage from egg to adult.

The North West side of the island, almost where the ferries dock, is the best place to go snorkel with hundreds of colourful fish around.

On the south of the Island, you can find El Garrafon Park to spend a great day. If you're interested in underwater fun, this park provides tremendous visibility in warm water.

At Garrafon, a national park featuring a coral reef and lots of fun activities, you can don a harness and zoom down the zip line over the Caribbean. It's a lot like James Bond must feel when he's on vacation.

Close to it there is the famous Hacienda Mundaca (built by a pirate for the love of a local woman), with its own zoo. It's worth the visit.

The west side of the island offers dramatic views and rugged landscapes

With crystal clear water, endless beaches of white sand, and the charm of a fishermen village, Isla Mujeres offers all the amenities you can expect. These are good reasons to choose Isla Mujeres as a best tourist destination.
