

Vancouver Real Estate Market at a glance!

The October Real Estate Market in Vancouver continued to be strong with the Housing Price Index® for all residential properties in Greater Vancouver increasing 6.8% compared to October 2008. Prices continued to rise in 2009 due to consistently high sales levels which have allowed prices to gradually climb fuelled on by low mortgage rates and strong consumer confidence in the Vancouver market place.

VancouverPropertyFinder.com

Each Re/Max office independently owned and operated. Not intended to solicit property already listed for sale.